Kentucky Region Members coach student drivers at Street Survival School

Over 70 students traveled to the The Corvette Museum to learn skills to regain car control in an emergency situation.

In Kentucky as well as many other states, the requirements for a driver are the basics of driving a car, understanding the rules of the road, and parallel parking.

Twelve years ago Louisville native Bill Wade was concerned for the safety of his teenage daughter as she would soon be driving. How would she react to a sudden loss of car control? Would she panic if she had to brake and steer at the same time? He developed a system of teaching teens the skills to regain control of a car and avoid an accident without “Few people realize driving is one of the most dangerous things they do. A car traveling at just four mph has more energy than a bullet. That’s a lot of responsibility.”

—National Program Director Bill Wade

panic. Being an avid auto-croser, Bill used some of the basic events of a solo at lower speed in a controlled environment. The resulting process became the Tিরerack® Street Survival School for teens which has grown to 100 schools across the nation. Jamey McDaniel, Armando Manzo, Brian Mason, David Melton and several other volunteers coached young first time drivers on the skills of car control in emergency situations. There were 70 students at this school, some had entered several times in at other locations, but where turned down because the schools were sold out. The driving exercises were the most memorable actions of the day for the students. Exercises are set up to best demonstrate tire limitations, brakes and weight transfer through a series of exercises such as slalom, 200’ skid pad, quick lane change, decreasing radius turn, panic stop using ABS and turning while braking. Instructors enjoyed the time with each student and the satisfaction seeing great progress in the student’s control of their car. The event went smooth and both students and their parents were appreciative of the effort from the Survival team.

A street survival instructor explains the process of the next exercise to student drivers.

Keeping control of a car on a wet skid pad is one of the many challenges facing the students.

Wilder Park Chile Cook Off

KYR SCCA offers goodwill to the neighborhood near Papa John's Stadium. Several club members showed up at the Annual Wilder Park Chile Cook Off to show off their cars, share stories and serve hot dogs and soda to go along with the 7 different Chile recipes in the contest. Great music by the band kept things lively and the local fire department showed up to put out the hot dog grill, and stayed a while to eat dogs and sample chile.

Eight members showed up with hotdogs, soft drinks and good humor to the delight of the Wilder Park folks.

Miles Ahead Driving School Shows Their Skills at Fun Event 3

Ted Woerner, Stephan Groire and Stephan Simpson arrived to Fun Event #3 with their beautifully liveried Mini Coopers from Miles Ahead driving experience from Indianapolis thanks to Mini of Louisville. Ted Woerner said "We give drivers of all ages and ability levels memorable behind-the-wheel training and driving experiences. We also offer diving training for teens on car control and accident evasive action in the event of an accident". There are track time events on the Indianapolis Road course. Check them out at bemilesahead.net.

Many of you may remember Stephan Groire, who became the youngest rookie to qualify for the Indianapolis 500 in 1993. Very impressive for a Frenchman who did not speak English and had never driven on an oval.

Jamey McDaniel was starter at the 2013 Holley LS Fest

Holley LS Fest Big Success

Members of the Kentucky Region volunteered their expertise to the 2013 Holley LS Fest which is a qualifier event leading up to the Optima Ultimate Street Car Challenge. The magnificent seven helped run the autocross event, and thanks to their tremendous effort, over 900 runs were made over the three day event. The organizers were quite pleased with our organization and efficiency and would like to see us back next year. Hopefully we can double the members that participated next time because seven were not enough to run an event of this magnitude. Russ Coleman was a participant and came in 2nd in the autocross, against many Street car challenge veterans including Danny Popp. The cars where incredible tube frame "muscle car" cars especially designed for autocross, drag and track time events. To see more photos of the event and the cars that ran go to KYR SCCA Facebook page.
